Recommendations from the Strategic Assessment and Local Profile compiled by the Violence Reduction Network
Pursue
17	Partners to continue to identify groups, individuals and businesses known to be linked to serious & organised crime.	Partners attend Genga meetings and/or read associated documentation to stay up to date.	Police	Y				Perpetrators of crime.	Greater awareness of threats and opportunities relating to serious and organised crime.
18	Develop our understanding of the assets favoured by OCGs in order to target partnership tactics on disruption and recovery.	Rural task force collaborating with RVBC and parishes to increase CCTV network. Rural task force implementing projects around trackers for quad bikes and collaborating with RVBC and businesses to acquire ANPR cameras to protect high value items at local hotspots and attempting to purchase 2 e-bikes to cover off road policing areas. Neighbourhood police collaborating with RVBC to deliver bike safe schemes.	Police	Y		Y		Perpetrators of crime.	Decrease in incidents of theft of high value items and improved recovery rate.
19	Support the creation of bespoke 4P Plans on PAM which support the ideal of 'Relentless Disruption'.	This are widely used within Ribble Valley police.	Police	Y				Perpetrators of crime.	Efficient response to crime which is recorded on PAM.
20	Building on the current knowledge, explore opportunities to enhance the use of civil orders.	Collaboration between police and RVBC teams to create a flow chart to identify the appropriate use of civil orders across organisations.	Police and RVBC	Y				Perpetrators of crime.	More efficient handling of incidents relating to ASB.				New problem solving command launched with civil order support for Lancashire Police teams. Designated area support team details shared.
21	Targeting criminal use of the rail network will limit the capacity of SOC groups. Working with British Transport Police (BTP) will support intelligence collection and appropriate activity, targeting key areas.	Working with BTP where necessary.	Police	Y				Perpetrators of crime.	Reduction in the use of the railways to support criminal behaviour.
Prevent
22	To develop overarching serious and organised crime preventative programmes to raise awareness of the reality and consequences of being involved in crime. Partnership leaflets, media and literature are still required to improve frontline knowledge.	Training and prevention programmes identified to be used in schools such as the JJ Effect. Further training for staff and networking events organised.	CSP	Y	Y			Perpetrators of crime.	Education leading to prevention and identification of criminal behaviour and vulnerable individuals.
23	Consideration should be given to target early intervention at Year 6/7 as this is deemed the most vulnerable point for youths entering the Offending Continuum. Home Office education packs are available to support schools in delivering this message.	Home Office education pack shared with schools. A Practitioner Toolkit – Working with young people to prevent involvement in Serious and Organised Crime (publishing.service.gov.uk). Police and other partners deliver prevention workshops in schools and each school has an associated PCSO who spends time getting to know the school population.	CSP and schools	Y	Y	Y		Perpetrators of crime.	Education leading to prevention and identification of criminal behaviour and vulnerable individuals.
24	Closer engagement with neighbouring forces would benefit the identification of vulnerable children and adults linked to County Lines criminality and allow for the planning of prevent and protect strategies for these individuals.	Local priorities meeting with RV and Pendle and regional priorities stratetic meeting with East Lancashire CSP leads and Police inspectors.	Police and RVBC	Y				Perpetrators of crime.	Information sharing.
25	Closer engagement is required with those that can influence or be good role models (i.e. behavioural teams / young offender organisations / charities / early intervention resources) especially after Pursue tactics have been completed against SOC nominals.	Close links with the Champions Programme, CANW, BB&G's, targeted youth support and local providers of diversionary activities. Referral made via youth panel and direct from nominals.	CSP and wider partners.	Y	Y	Y		Perpetrators of crime.	Prevention and reduction of recidivism.
26	Closer engagement with the Violent Reduction Unit (VRU) to ensure interventions and prevent pathways are considered for those at risk of becoming involved in serious & organised crime.	Information sharing protocols identified to ensure that available interventions are promoted and used.	Police and RVBC	Y	Y			Perpetrators of crime.	Prevention and reduction of recidivism.
Protect
27	Strategies are required for reducing the demand for illegal commodities such as heroin and crack cocaine. This is the cornerstone of eliminating County Lines markets and the linked criminality including exploitation that supports the delivery of these commodities.	Ribble Valley Police work closely with the Intelligence Unit and scan information received to assess the level of the issue. If a problem is identified we will map the problem and give it an operation name. This is then monitored at a fortnightly meeting to measure the progress in dealing with the issue. We utilise a 4P plan to deal with the issue which looks at Protecting people, prevention, prosecution and disruption. This is monitored and recorded and a system named PAM.	Police	Y				Perpetrators of crime.	Preventing County Lines activity in the district and reducing drug related crime.
Prepare
28	Working to build strong communities that are better prepared for and more resilient to the threat of serious and organised crime.	Modern Slavery training identified for local police and partners training needs identified around CSE/ CCE.	Police	Y	Y			Perpetrators of crime.	Education leading to prevention and resilience based strategies for communities.
29	Intelligence sharing needs to be improved in the areas of sexual and criminal exploitation (adult and child), human trafficking along with all other aspects of modern slavery, so that a true understanding of the threat to communities can be understood.		Police	Y				Perpetrators of crime.	Education for the protection of vulnerable individuals.
30	Partners need to collate and share good practice to develop a 'What Works' approach based on the last 12 months performance, this can be done by identifying what partners have available (resources/training materials) and continue with joint training events and self-assessment.	Joint training events in development. Sharing protocols for media campaigns confirmed. SVD assessment is covering a wide range of issues to reviewed and evaluated regularly. The plan will be updated regularly and published.	Police and CSP	Y	Y			Perpetrators of crime.	Education to prevent crime, reduce recidivism and make communities more resilient.

Communication / Media Strategy / GENGA Branding needs to increase awareness and understanding with partners and the public.	All communication published via social media for the emergency services are shared via RVBC and Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service social media channels.	Police, LFRS and RVBC	Y	Y	Y	Perpetrators of crime.	Increasing public and professional awareness.
